YANG SING
城

We have worked alongside our friends and suppliers to curate a selection of wines from obscure small producers all the way in Japan to big name vineyards closer to home, that make perfect pairings with our cuisine. We continue to see the demand grow for more unique and interesting drinks and producers.

In this edition of the wine list we have explored beyond just family owned, organic or biodynamic wines – we celebrate our female wine makers who have broken through glass ceilings and continue to take more risks and produce ever more exciting wines. ♀

Gerrard Seel has been a supplier to Yang Sing since 1984. Roger who has looked after us since the inception of Gerrard Seel; has provided us with invaluable support, helping to shape and steer our wine selection. Taking us from the days when French Burgundy graced every table, to current day; when like ourselves, and many of our diners, Roger is looking for more interesting and lesser known wines.

Jurgens Haussels founded C&O Wines in 1973, importing exclusive wines from over 50 family owned wine estates from four continents.

Jurgens's son - Oliver, who looks after Yang Sing, is the next generation in his own family business and shares very similar experiences and outlooks to our own.

BRING YOUR OWN - Mondays is our BYO day with our corkage charge being only £5 per bottle of wine. On all other days our corkage charge is £20 per bottle of wine.

CHAMPAGNE 香檳

Gosset is the oldest house in Champagne, founded in 1584. It was in the 18th Century when they made their first bottle of sparkling wine using the antique flask shaped bottles.

The grapes primarily come from premier and grand cru vineyards surrounding Epernay which, once unified, receive extensive ageing in the cellar ensuring complexity, intensity and expressiveness.
